

Mt. Bachelor, Oregon, Feb. 24 – Mar. 2, 2024

Florida Ski Council Trip

Mt. Bachelor is a true destination, even though they have no slope side lodging, no fancy base villages, and no condo developments, because they have something better.

Mt. Bachelor is surrounded by some of the most spectacular National Forest in the country. Skiers enjoy a feeling of wilderness and solitude that isn't found anywhere else.

Bend, Oregon is home to some of the country's top craft breweries, tax-free shopping, and great apres-adventure entertainment. Small mountain town vibes meet sophistication here, so expect to find worldly menus and upscale cocktail bars mixed among local breweries and taco joints.

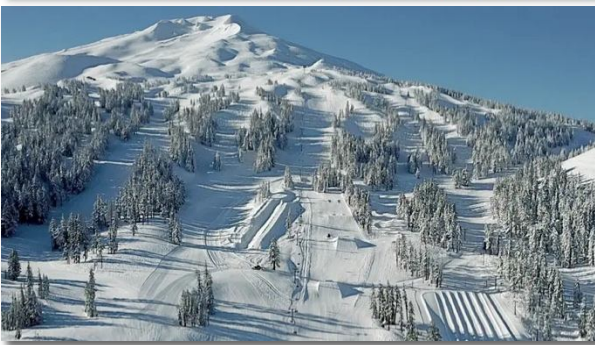

Arrive early and head out as lifts start to enjoy perfectly groomed slopes. Cloudchaser is their newest high-speed quad chair rising 1,449 vertical feet above the clouds. Accessing 13 new runs and over 650 acres of new terrain, it greatly enhances Mt. Bachelor's 360-degree experience. Cloudchaser offers a variety of terrain, from flowing groomers to adventurous tree runs through the old-growth forest, extending to the furthest reaches of the eastern slopes.

Woodward Mountain Park offers an awesome family-friendly banked slalom and the flowing, twisting, and turning features through the Volcano Adventure Zone.

Mt. Bachelor also offers guided snowshoe tours with a forest Naturalist, over 53 km of groomed Nordic trails (with daily lessons in skate skiing or classic skiing), and the unforgettable experience of dog sledding (yes, really!). You can even skin uphill for a cardio blast.

All these features make Mt. Bachelor a bit different than other resorts. Yet it's very, very worth it.
